The Honorable Cindy Long

Dear Secretary Vilsack, Deputy Under Secretary Dean, and Administrator Long,

We, the 530 undersigned national, state, and local organizations, commend the commitment of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Food and Nutrition Service (USDA-FNS) to ensure all children have access to the nutritious meals and snacks they need as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to disrupt the school day and severely impacts families and communities.

While the decision to extend several nationwide waivers in April 2021 was a timely first step, the available flexibilities do not account for the current reality of the school day and out-of-school time. The Delta variant has introduced new challenges for both the school day and meal service: by early August, reports showed that more schools across the country were forced to pivot to hybrid learning due to increased exposure and quarantines, meaning many children are not in the school building every day with consistent access to school meals.

Schools have played a critical role in ensuring access to meals since March 2020, but they can't – and shouldn't – do it alone. Non-school Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) sponsors have been instrumental in supporting schools' meal service efforts and stepping in to fill gaps where schools were closed or did not have the capacity to reach and serve all children, but they are not able to do that under the current waiver options. The last year and a half has shown that families will need ongoing flexibility when it comes to accessing meals, and that both schools and non-school sponsors will be needed to fill the nutrition gap.

We ask that USDA take the following actions before September 30th – when the Continuing Appropriations Act 2021 authority to issue nationwide waivers expires – to ensure continued access to meals throughout the entire school year:

- Use the current nationwide authority to allow non-school sponsors to operate the Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) during the 2021-2022 school year and work in partnership with schools to ensure access to meals. This is important in areas where schools are utilizing remote or hybrid learning models and in the event of additional school disruptions and quarantines related to COVID-19. Sponsors and programs that are providing full day care to school-aged children during the upcoming school year should be able to offer breakfast and lunch through SFSP, combined with a supper and snack through CACFP. Families also should have the option when children are not in the classroom to pick-up meals at sites that are more accessible to them.
- Use the current nationwide authority to offer additional waivers and flexibilities to help all operators cope with the extreme ongoing supply chain challenges. This will help to streamline work for state agencies and organizations operating in multiple states at a time of widespread disruption and heavy workloads.

We appreciate your consideration of this request.

Signed:
